

ADMISSIONS POLICY AND PROCEDURE

This policy details Foundation for International Education (FIE)'s policy and procedure for selecting applicants for its programmes.

This policy is concerned with general principles which are applied to independent applicants as well as applicants from institutions with whom FIE has an agreement¹. The policy also informs admissions requirements of individual programmes. Details of these programmes can be found on FIE's website at <http://www.fie.org.uk>. Admission to FIE is based on academic and experiential suitability and on the potential of the applicant to achieve success on their chosen programme of study.

FIE works in close partnership with accredited universities and colleges. Prior to nominating students, these institutions evaluate their students' credentials, academic and experiential backgrounds and their potential to gain from the programme. These institutions confirm that the students recommended to FIE meet the minimum admission standards for the program and are in good academic and disciplinary standing. This forms part of FIE's final assessment of a student's suitability and the offer decision.

FIE is committed to the principle of equal opportunity in education and employment. In the administration of its educational policies, admissions policies, employment policies, scholarship programmes and other internally administered programmes and activities, FIE does not discriminate against individuals on the basis of race, colour, nationality, ethnic or national origin; sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression; marital or parental status; religion, belief, or lack of religion/belief; age; disability; genetic information or veteran's status. In its commitment to ensuring an environment that is welcoming and respectful to all, FIE proactively undertakes initiatives and actions to create an environment that welcomes diverse populations.

The submission of an online application form and supplementary materials for admission are to be completed by the required deadline. Deadlines are announced on the FIE website at <http://www.fie.org.uk>. A student must apply for admission in accordance with the application procedures and requirements issued by FIE Admissions.

¹ Students that attend institutions for which FIE has no relationship ('independent applicants') will follow the process outlined as Route 1. For students that attend institutions for which FIE has a relationship, students may be required to follow Route 1 or Route 2. Please contact admissions@fie.org.uk if you are unsure of how to proceed.

FIE's Director of Administration and Accessibility assists students with any accessibility needs or queries, from pre-application and throughout their study abroad experience.

Notice of Admission

- a. Admissions decisions are made on a rolling basis by the Admissions Committee.

Offers to Route 1 (Individual admissions) applicants are made in writing within approximately 5 working days of the completion of the application in accordance with the procedures for admissions and academic requirements. FIE reserves the right to withdraw an offer and cancel the enrolment of any person where an offer is made on the basis of incomplete or inaccurate information supplied by the applicant or certifying authority.

Credit

Students are strongly advised to visit the FIE website and their study abroad office on their home campus (study abroad office, academic department, and/or registrar's office) for advice about their chosen courses before making a formal application and to determine their home institution's policy on credit transfer. FIE has two Schools of Record (SORs), Drexel University and Marist College. Which SOR used is programme dependent.

Unless students are coming from an institution with which FIE has a relationship, and there is an agreement in place whereby the home institution grants credit, students will be enrolled with one of FIE's SORs. Students will receive transcripts as per the below table:
